

HOW TO PLAY BINGO

You can choose to play as many tickets as you want at a time. If you play with six books, you will have all the numbers on your page. There are no repeat numbers, so six books means you have to mark every time a number is called. If you have only three tickets, you will only have half of the numbers that are in play.

The numbers are arranged in columns, 1 to 9, 10 to 19 and so on. The UK ticket has 15 numbers and three rows. You have to mark all the numbers on a line to have a win. When a player marks a line of five numbers completely, he or she has to shout Bingo! and the claim is checked. If the win is confirmed, the game goes to the next stage, in which the players have to mark 10 numbers on two lines to win.

Of course, the most thrilling part of the game is when the full house is played. The goal of all players is to mark 15 numbers out of 90, and to shout Bingo for the big cashpot put in play.

Prize Bingo is suitable for Adults and Children who can independently recognise numbers 1-90. Cash Bingo is only suitable for players aged 18+
